BEYOND THE BARS

MARCH 7-8 2014

BREAKING THROUGH

4th Annual Criminal Justice Conference

March 8, 2014
Columbia School of Social Work

A Community Collaborative Event
Schedule of Events

March 7, 2014
FRIDAY NIGHT KICKOFF EVENT
7:00 – 9:30 pm

Angela Davis
Fania Davis
Beth Richie
Soffiyah Elijah

Impact Repertory Theatre
Bryonn Bain
NYCbeatbox
Jacob Cohen

March 8, 2014
SATURDAY MORNING PANELS
9:00 AM – 10:00 AM
Check-In

Panel #1: 10:00 AM – 11:30 AM
Transforming Systems: Education at the Center

Panel #2: 11:45 AM – 1:15 PM
Transforming Systems: Imagining Justice and Safety without Mass Incarceration

1:15 PM – 2:15 PM
Lunch Break (Lunch provided on first-come basis to those registered for morning panels.)

AFTERNOON WORKSHOPS

Block #1
2:15 PM – 3:45 PM
Workshops

Block #2
4:00 PM – 5:30 PM
Workshops
Morning Panels: Saturday, March 8th

Panel #1  10:00–11:30 am
Room 311/312

Transforming Systems: Education at the Center
This panel will examine how the criminal justice system is deeply intertwined with the education system. Education at the Center means dismantling the school-to-prison pipeline, putting resources into schools and not prisons and supporting education for those in prison and coming home. Transforming the criminal justice system means transforming the education system and transforming the education system means transforming the criminal justice system.

Moderator:
Michelle Fine, Professor of Social Psychology, Women’s Studies and Urban Education, Graduate Center, CUNY

Speakers:
Glenn Martin, Founder and Chief Risk Taker, JustLeadershipUSA
Fred Patrick, Director, Pathways from Prison to Postsecondary Education Project, VERA Institute
Susan Sturm, Director, Center for Institutional and Social Change
Julie Zuckerman, New York Public School Principal, Castlebridge Elementary School

Panel #2  11:45–1:15 pm
Room 311/312

Transforming Systems: Imagining Justice and Safety without Mass Incarceration
This panel will explore alternatives to the punishment paradigm and mass incarceration. The panel will examine alternative frameworks including a public health lens and restorative justice practices, and review concrete examples both inside the United States and internationally.

Moderator:
Mikail DeVeaux, Co-Founder, Citizens Against Recidivism
Speakers:
Fania Davis, Executive Director, Restorative Justice for Oakland Youth
Ernest Drucker, Scholar in Residence and Graduate Faculty, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of NY, Adjunct Professor of Epidemiology, Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health
Clinton Lacey, Deputy Commissioner of Adult Operations, New York City Office of Probation
Marie Verzulli Victim/Survivor Advocate, New Yorkers for Alternatives to the Death Penalty
Sara Sullivan, Senior Program Associate, Center on Sentencing and Corrections, Vera Institute of Justice

Afternoon Workshops:
Saturday, March 8

Block #1: 2:15-3:45pm

Humane Alternatives to Long-Term Solitary Confinement

Room 405

This workshop will paint a picture for what solitary confinement looks like, both generally and in New York State. The inhumane conditions that lead to human deterioration within solitary will be explained. The points of a bill that can change the system of torture that exists today will be discussed.

Moderator
Scott Paltrowitz, Associate Director, Prison Visiting Project Correctional Association of New York; Member, Campaign for Alternatives to Isolated Confinement

Speakers
Tyrrell Muhammad, Correctional Association of New York, Survivor of 7 years of solitary
Yvette Gonzales, Survivor of 6 years of solitary, Housing Works
Gabriel Torres, Political Prisoner of 10 years, Community Service Society
Daniel Dromm, New York City Councilman
Faith-Based Communities: Their Roles in the Criminal Justice System

Room 304

What might it mean for congregations and communities to engage powers and principalities that diminish life? This workshop explores this question by utilizing the study of the bible as a pedagogical tool for pushing beyond a prison ministry of presence to one that engages the structural issues that undergird our current system of incarceration.

Moderator:
Aregenys Taveras, MSW and Seminary Student, Union Theological Seminary

Speakers:
Reverend Janet Wolf, Co-Creator, D. Min. in Prisons, Public Policy and Transformative Justice with New Brunswick Theological Seminary
Leroy Jones, Formerly Incarcerated
Jacqueline D. McLeod, Executive Director, Healing Communities Network

Immigration Detention and Mass-Deportation

Room 311/312

This workshop will discuss current laws on the local and federal level that are funneling non-citizen and undocumented immigrants into immigration detention centers, and will explore the impact of this practice on families and our society.

Moderator:
Evelia Ilarraz, CSSW Student, Families for Freedom

Speakers:
Tina Reynolds, Co-Founder and Chair, Women on the Rise Telling HerStory (WORTH)
Donald Anthonyson, Organizer, Families for Freedom
Cindy Martinez, Organizer, Families for Freedom
Christina Hilo, Organizer, Migrant Power Alliance
Annabelle Sibayan, Advocate for Trafficking Survivors
Campaign Development 101: Through the Lens of Raise the Age

Room 404

This workshop will examine strategies and tactics for building a campaign. It will focus on the Raise the Age Campaign as an example. The workshop will provide information and lead discussions so that participants can “workshop” the development of a campaign.

Moderator:
NuLeadership

Speakers:
Dr. Divine Pryor, Executive Director, Center for NuLeadership on Urban Solutions
Kyung-Ji Kate Rhee, Juvenile Justice Director, Center for NuLeadership on Urban Solutions
Chino Hardin, Project Coordinator, ARCHES Mentoring Program

The Impact of Parental Arrest on Children

Room C06

This workshop will explore how arresting parents impacts children from various viewpoints. Panelists will share personal experiences, psychological effects on children, and discuss proposed legislation around child-sensitive arrests.

Moderator:
Tanya Krupat, Program Director, NY Initiative for Children of Incarcerated Parents, The Osborne Association

Speakers:
Senator Velmanette Montgomery, New York State Senator, 25th District
Barbara “Bobby” Blanchard-Lewis, Senior Staff Associate, Center for Children and Families and Columbia University School of Nursing
Charisse Simmons, Advocate for the rights of children and families who have been affected by incarceration
Nyasha Perez, Youth Advisory Board Member
Coryne Bonner, Youth Advisory Board Member
Reproductive Health Rights in Prison

Room 305

This panel will discuss the issues around women’s reproductive health and reproductive rights inside prisons, and the reproductive rights issues that feed into the prison industrial complex, focusing on current local and national campaigns. Issues include the shackling of women who give birth in prisons and advocacy efforts for women who have lost their right to make decisions about their own reproductive health in states that have criminalized abortion.

Moderator:
Amanda Geller, Assistant Professor, Mailman School of Public Health

Speakers:
Farah Diaz-Tello, JD, Staff Attorney, National Advocates for Pregnant Women (NAPW)
Victoria Law, Birthing Behind Bars campaign, Women on the Rise Telling Herstory (WORTH)
Sa’Vanna Stokely, Birthing Behind Bars campaign, WORTH
Tamar Kraft-Stolar, Director, Women in Prison Project at the Correctional Association
Bridgette Biggs, Coalition for Women Prisoners, Women in Prison Project

Women, Reentry, and Gender Responsive Programming

Room C03

This discussion will center around women and re-entry, including the history of women in prison, the impact on communities, and the implications, successes and downfalls of gender-responsive programming.

Moderator:
Yolanda Peterkin-Johnson, Director of Program Operations for Re-Entry Services, Women’s Prison Association

Speakers:
Sharon White, Housing Plus Solutions
Eugene Jackson, Case Manager, Fortune Society
Melissa Rios, Program Director, Justice Homes at WPA
Nicole Nembard, Co-Founder, MOVE
Andre Ward, Program Manager, Justice Community, Osborne Association
Block #2: 4:00-5:30pm

The Intersection of Higher Education and the Criminal Justice Systems

Room C03

This panel will focus on three campaigns about higher education and the criminal justice system: 1) reinstating higher education in prison; 2) abolishing the box that asks on college applications about felony convictions; and 3) the prison divestment campaign concerning colleges investing in prison-related products including private prisons. The participants will learn through personal life stories about the role of higher education for people returning from prison and the obstacles they face.

Moderator:
Julia Mendoza, New York University, Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

Speakers:
Ronald Day, Director of Workforce Development, Osborne Association
Imani Brown, Students Against Mass Incarceration, Columbia Prison Divest
Yasmin Safdie, Community Organizer, Education from the Inside Out Coalition
Ronnell “Charzell” McGill, How Our Lives Link Altogether

Our Elders Behind Bars, Our Families Divided: Transforming the Parole System

Room 305

The number of incarcerated elders in New York and nationally continues to rise as people with long sentences age. Yet incarcerated elders pose the lowest risk to public safety and could contribute mightily to bettering our communities. How does continued incarceration and perpetual punishment affect elders, their families, friends and communities? AND: How can we win their release and heal our families and communities? How can we transform the parole system?

Moderator:
Laura Whitehorn, formerly incarcerated, RAPP organizer
Speakers:
Larry White, formerly incarcerated, AFSC
Barbara Inniss, family member, Sparkles of Joy Ministry
Dequi Kioni-Sadiki, family member, New York Jericho Movement
Tyrrell Muhammad, formerly incarcerated, Correctional Association
Ariane Davison, Columbia graduate student

Room C06

This workshop will explore how the concept of restorative justice intersects with domestic violence and communities of color in practice. Panelists will discuss how professionals work with victims of domestic violence and the culturally sensitive practices that are required in serving communities of color. A call to action will provide ways that participants can get involved in working with communities of color in the domestic violence field today.

Moderator:
Jaya Vasandani, Associate Director, Women in Prison Project (WIPP), Correctional Association of New York

Speakers:
Wanda Best-DeVeaux, Co-founder, Citizens Against Recidivism
Linda Lopez, Deputy Director, Sanctuary for Families Center for Battered Women’s Legal Services
Shihomi Tonogawa, Assistant Director, New York Asian Women’s Center
Romrell Washington, Clinical Social Worker, St. Luke-Roosevelt Hospital Crime Victims, Treatment Center, Board Member, Male Survivor
Soniya Munshi, Assistant Professor Sociology, CUNY Borough of Manhattan Community College

Policing Under Bratten: A New Era or Business as Usual?

Room 304

NYPD Commissioner Bill Braxton announced that “the stop and frisk issue” has been solved. Bill de Blasio himself declared the end to the police reform movement. Has the new regime actually brought change to the streets of NYC? Is now a time to celebrate our wins or keep our foot on the gas? This workshop will explore these questions and the idea of community control as an alternative to current practices.
Moderator:
Randolph Carr III, Investigator, Bronx Defenders

Speakers:
Noha Arafa, Staff Attorney, Legal Aid Society
Norm Segal, Former Director, American Civil Liberties Union
Margarita Rosario, Activist
Julien Terrell, Lead Organizer, Brotherhood Sister Sol
Fahd Ahmed, Legal and Policy Director, Representative Lead Organizer

Tracking Trans* Individuals Across the Justice System Continuum: Identifying Service Gaps and Promoting Safety

Room 404

This workshop will explore how trans* individuals are treated along the spectrum of the criminal justice system, focusing on three key points: interaction with the police on the streets, interaction with the police and courts as survivors of violence, and experiences in institutional corrections. Speakers will provide a short overview of the obstacles faced, followed by a discussion about how to change and improve service delivery and general treatment. The panel will conclude with a “What’s next?” discussion, outlining existing activist individuals and organizations who are working on these issues, and a discussion of what workshop attendees can bring back to their own organizations to start to create or improve services for their trans* clients and community members.

Moderator:
Stacy Soria, Senior Case Manager, Doe Fund

Speakers:
Kim Watson, Founder, CK Life
Shaniece Powell, Community Group Organizer, NYC Pride
Sydney Kopp-Richardson, Training and Education Coordinator, NYC Anti-Violence Project
Crystal DeBoise, LMSW, Managing Director, Sex Workers Project of the Urban Justice Center
How Can it Be Done Better? An International Comparison of Justice Systems

Room 311/312

This panel will examine criminal justice policies in the Netherlands, Germany, France and Spain. The panel will explore sentencing policies, prison conditions, reentry policies and the overall values and culture about crime and punishment.

Moderator:
Charlotte Gossett, Graduate Student, School of International and Public Affairs & Social Work

Speakers:
Sara Sullivan, Senior Program Associate, Center on Sentencing and Corrections, Vera Institute of Justice
Lila Kazemian, Ph.D., Associate Professor, John Jay College of Criminal Justice
Laura Negredo, Research Analyst, Research and Evaluation Center at John Jay College of Criminal Justice

Theatre for Social Change in an Era of Mass Incarceration

Room 405

Theatre for Social Change (TSC) artistic director and TSC performers will explore the role of devised theatre and performance in advocating for criminal justice reform and empowering communities disproportionately affected by mass incarceration. Exercises will focus on participant-generated themes relating to oppression and mass incarceration.

Moderator:
Elizabeth Mirarchi, Director, Theater for Social Change

Speakers:
Edna Sams, Member, Theater for Social Change
Selena Fulford, Member, Theater for Social Change
Leslie Campell, Member, Theater for Social Change
Alesa Simmons, Member, Theater for Social Change
Denise-McFarlin, Member, Theater for Social Change
Yolanda Johnson-Peterkin, Member, Theater for Social Change
Beyond the Bars is organized by the Criminal Justice Caucus, the Justice Initiative at Columbia University, the Criminal Justice Initiative: Supporting Children, Families, and Communities and Columbia School of Social Work, in collaboration with students, faculty and community members across New York City. For more information, visit the Justice Initiative at ji.columbia.edu.

Co-Sponsors

Criminal Justice Initiative: Supporting Children, and Communities
Professional Development & Self-Awareness (PDSA)
CSSW Student Union
CSSW Asian Pacific Islander Caucus
CSSW Black Caucus
CSSW Latino Caucus
CSSW Feminist Caucus
CSSW Policy Caucus
CSSW Mental Health Caucus
Institute for Research in African-American Studies at Columbia University
Columbia University Law School
Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health
Columbia University Partnership for International Development (CUPID)
Columbia University School of International and Public Affairs
Columbia University Teachers College
Students Against Mass Incarceration
Institute of African Affairs NYU
Correctional Association of New York
Columbia University Office of Government and Community Affairs

Special Thanks

Barbara Martinsons
Christina Vega
Gerald J. And Dorothy R. Friedman Foundation
Greta Faigen
The Social Intervention Group
The Criminal Justice Caucus
The Doe Fund
University Events Management
Conference Panel and Workshop Working Groups
Criminal Justice Caucus Volunteers
CSSW Office of Communications
Events Management
Associate Dean David Yam
Dean Jeanette Takamura